"This is an excellent tutorial how to set up Zoom on your device and how to join a Zoom meeting such as ours. Just look at the first 2 1/2 minutes of the tutorial as the rest is not really relevant to

of the tutorial, as the test is not really relevant to our kind of Zoom meeting. After looking at the tutorial please try to join a Zoom meeting with the ID 643-375-1047 anytime. That is the Zoom ID for our Wednesday meetings. When you try to join, you will receive a message “Please wait for the host to start this meeting” and some reference to NMUG. That is okay.

On this Wednesday, the presentation will start at 11:30 AM, but we will open the Zoom meeting at 10:30 AM to give you a chance to join early and test your connection. In contrast to the tutorial, your audio will be muted at the outset. In the tutorial the audio is unmuted. When you want to talk to our audience, you need to click on the mic button and unmute it. We have deactivated audio to better control the overall sound level with so many participants. We will give additional Zoom explanations/instructions right at the beginning of our meeting at 11:30 AM.

If you have any questions or comments, please contact Eckart Goette at registrar@naplesmug.com and he will be happy to respond very quickly.
